EverView™ Keeps You Prepared

You may not be able to predict the future, but you should be prepared for it. EverView's Healthcare Preparedness Package integrates digital and traditional solutions to provide a frictionless patient experience. How do we do it? Redundant processes that allow you to easily switch from traditional to digital and back again, contingency-proofing your line of communication.

Pre-Appointment Communications

Employ digital and traditional channels to ensure your patients are ready for their upcoming appointments. Send reminders. Update critical patient information. Communicate with patients in real-time.

Post-Appointment Communications

The appointment may be over, but the patient experience has just begun. Keep patients up to date with critical follow-up information and appointment notifications – via their inbox or their mailbox.
